

Responsible Glove Alliance

2023 Membership Application for Members

Please refer to the RGA Operating Procedures and Compliance Manual for detailed information on the initiative and its requirements

Purpose of RGA: The purpose of the Responsible Glove Alliance (RGA) is to enable members, suppliers, recruitment partners and stakeholders to collaborate to address forced labor in global medical supplies supply chains through recruitment transformation and the application of due diligence with advanced standards, tools and programs.

Membership Eligibility: RGA membership is open to business organizations that buy, sell or produce rubber gloves manufactured in Malaysia which support the mission and vision of the RGA and whose primary objective of joining the initiative is the implementation of forced labor due diligence in their supply chain. Buyers of rubber gloves from Malaysia join as Regular level members, and all manufacturer applicants join as Supporter members of the initiative.

Membership Commitments

Due Diligence Commitments for Supplier Members: All new Supporter level members will be required to fulfil the due diligence activities for all their facilities and recruitment agencies. The first step upon application and signing of the Confidentiality Agreement is to disclose all owned facilities to the RGA Secretariat to enable full supply chain mapping for RGA members and track progress of completed due diligence per facility. The cost of these required activities is not included in the membership fee, and each activity must be paid for by the Supporter member in order to comply with the membership requirements. The cost per facility/entity for these activities are estimated as follows, and is subjected to revision periodically to better reflect actual cost over time:

Suppliers	Verified Self Assessment	$ 250.00
	Initial Audit	$ 8,500.00
	Closure Audit	$ 3,500.00
	Instructor Led Training	$ 2,000.00
	Helpline Training (per site)	$ 2,000.00
Recruiters	Verified Self Assessment	$ 250.00
	Initial Audit	$ 3,500.00
	Closure Audit	$ 2,000.00
	Instructor Led Training	$ 500.00

Due Diligence Fund: All Regular members pay an annual contribution to the Due Diligence Fund as part of their commitment to taking part in joint trainings and to cover costs of support and onboarding to RBA Online system, E-learning Academy, Risk Assessment Platform, Self-Assessment Questionnaire, training on forced labor, and Specialty Validated Assessment Program (SVAP) on Forced Labor for manufacturers and recruitment agencies; helpline onboarding and in-factory training). For Supplier members, this annual cost of $72,500 will be incurred on top of the annual membership (i.e., for a total of $100,000 / year) after the initial 18-month Supporter level activities have been successfully completed. Buyer members pay a contribution to the due diligence fund on top of the membership (total of $60,000 / year) upon approval of RGA membership.

Upon joining, members disclose relevant supply chain information to the RGA Secretariat to initiate due diligence processes and identify training needs. For suppliers, this includes all facilities and recruitment agencies; for buyers this includes all manufacturers based in Malaysia.

All RGA Members commit to the principles below, which recognize the importance of promoting responsible recruitment and employment practices in the medical supplies industry. Further, all RGA members will be required to adhere to a core set of commitments and requirements as defined in the RGA Operating Procedures including any other subsequent variations, amendments and additions.

Does your company agree to below minimum commitments? Please tick or cross the checkbox to indicate yes.

- The principles and standards outlined in the Freely Chosen Employment and other provisions of the RBA Code of Conduct which align with ILO Forced Labor Indicators or their equivalents;
- Cascading these commitments within your supply chains – at a minimum, requiring immediate / next tier suppliers to acknowledge and implement the principles and standards outlined in the Freely Chosen Employment Section of the RBA Code of Conduct or its equivalent;
- Continuous improvement, which is demonstrated by conducting assessment and social compliance activities to ensure commitment to the Code;
- Transparency and fostering accountability for all stakeholders involved.
- All applicable requirements as outlined in the Agreement on the Exchange of Confidential Information;
- Any other principles or criteria set by the RGA Steering Committee or the RBA Board of Directors.
